Guidance from USDA: Emergency Noncompetitive Procurement
Federal procurement regulations at 2 CFR 200.320(c) allow procurement by noncompetitive proposals when there is a public emergency such as COVID-19. Even when using Emergency procurement, food crediting documentation is needed and can include food labels, product formulation statements, CN Labels, bid documentation, or information from the Food Buying Guide for Child Nutrition Programs.

As a reminder, food items listed in the Food Buying Guide (FBG) can be served without further meal contribution documentation beyond what is listed in the FBG. There are many options listed in the FBG that can be purchased in any grocery store such as, chicken or turkey a La King, chicken or turkey barbeque, chicken or turkey chili, chicken or turkey chili with beans, chicken or turkey hash, chicken or turkey salad, chicken or turkey with gravy, chicken or turkey with noodles or dumplings, creamed chicken or turkey, whole cut up breaded chicken, chicken tenders, ground chicken or turkey, chili con carne, corned beef and cabbage, gravy and Swiss steak, beef taco filling, chicken wings, chicken or turkey thighs, chicken or turkey leg quarters, chicken or turkey drumsticks, knockwurst, frankfurters, ham with natural juices, ham, breaded fish portions, and breaded fish sticks, etc. If the Sponsor is concerned about the foods they purchased meeting the meal pattern or that documentation for the new items is not sufficient, the Sponsor must document the supply chain issue that caused the operator to not be able to obtain regular items and provide any documentation for substitute items that were purchased because of the emergency procurement situation.
Annual Civil Rights Training
“Front line staff” and their supervisors must have civil rights training annually. “Front line staff” includes employees who interact with program applicants or participants regarding program services and benefits. Sponsors can use the Annual Civil Rights Training Documentation handout, found in the forms section of the Administrative Handbook, and/or go to the KSDE learning portal at https://learning.ksde.org and select Civil Rights Compliance in Child Nutrition Programs to conduct a training session. Be sure to keep documentation of civil rights training on file. Training rosters must also be uploaded annually during Program Certification.

Next Steps for Implementation of the Emergency Operating Costs Reimbursement Program
Sponsors who are eligible to receive Emergency Operating Costs Reimbursement will be notified via email this week. A statement of the calculated reimbursement will be provided as well as an excel spreadsheet calculator to review the calculation. The Authorized Representative will be required to certify that the reimbursement total has been reviewed and is correct and then scan and email the signed document to cnw@ksde.org. If you have questions regarding the Emergency Operating Costs Program, please contact Julie (jhenry@ksde.org).

Household Contacts Policy to Verify Attendance & Enrollment of Participants
Sponsoring Organizations (multi-site sponsors) must establish a system and written policy, in which the sponsor verifies attendance and enrollment information by contacting adult members of households as part of site reviews. The household contact process is not required for At-Risk Afterschool Meals sites or homeless or emergency shelters. The policy should contain information detailed in Chapter 11 of the Administrative Handbook.

At-Risk Afterschool Meals
Help students make the grade this coming school year by serving At-Risk Afterschool Meals to children in lower income areas. If a traditional CACFP center also participates in CACFP At-Risk Afterschool Meals the center may only claim school age children under At-Risk. Help ensure that children have access to nutritious meals and snacks for students to achieve both in and outside of the classroom. Any site providing educational or enrichment activities after the end of the school day, on weekends or on holidays and planned days out during SY2021-2022 can receive reimbursement at the free rate for all meals/snacks that are served. For more information, call 785-296-2276 and ask for Laura.

Quick Train on Grains –
A Short Tutorial on Using the Grains Measuring Chart to Calculate Ounce Equivalents for Grains
Join KSDE on September 8 from 1:30–2:00 pm for a short tutorial on using the grains measuring chart to calculate ounce equivalents for grains. To make sure participants get enough grains in CACFP meals and snacks, required amounts for the grain's component are listed in the meal pattern as ounce equivalents (oz. eq.). Participants that participate in this tutorial will confidently be able to use the Grains Measuring Chart resource to determine if grain products meet the minimum requirement for ounce equivalents for grains in the CACFP. Keeping Cool with Nutrition

In August, it makes sense to have healthy foods on hand that can also double as cool treats to help beat the summer heat. It is vital to have nutrient-dense recipe ideas that keep us cool. Nutrient-dense foods mean that the food item is rich in nutrients that the body needs, like vitamins, minerals, and calories. Nutrient-dense foods include fruits; vegetables; protein like chicken, beef, and legumes; and whole grains like bread or rice. Consider searching for local produce that is in season to highlight fresh food and teach children about where it grows! For more ideas to Keep Cool with Nutrition consider subscribing to the Institute of Child Nutrition's Mealtime Memo (MTM). It is focused on nutrition and wellness in child care settings and is specifically intended for use by child care professionals who participate in the Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP). The objective is to provide research-based best practices for planning, preparing, and/or serving nutritious, safe, and child-friendly meals in child care settings operating the CACFP. Beginning in January 2021, the MTM moved to an electronic, blog-style newsletter. To ensure you automatically receive the latest issue, subscribe at this link!

As always, if you have questions or need technical assistance, please contact your Child Nutrition Consultant or the Topeka office.
