Expanded Access to CACFP Meals for Young Adults in Emergency Shelters
The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) recently announced that young adults under the age of 25 experiencing homelessness will now be able to receive meals at emergency shelters participating in the Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP) from the date of enactment on March 11, 2021, until the date of the COVID-19 public health emergency is lifted. Under normal circumstances, USDA only reimburses shelters for meals served to children, through age 18, but the American Rescue Plan (ARP) Act expanded several nutrition assistance programs to reach the most vulnerable populations experiencing food hardship due to the pandemic, including homeless young adults.

Face Covering Update

The Kansas State Department of Education and the Kansas Department of Agriculture do not have face covering requirements. The decision to require face coverings occurs at the local level. It is important to partner with local health departments, since they have information on local transmission levels and can provide the appropriate guidance for your community. KSDE does recommend that nutrition program staff continue to wear face coverings while providing meal services, regardless of decisions made at the local level. Nutrition program staff have contact with many customers during meal service and the viral load can become significant. There are also emerging variants to the corona viruses and there is still much to be learned about how the emerging variants affect people.
Current CDC health and safety recommendations include the following:

- Fully vaccinated individuals may be outdoors without wearing face coverings. Fully vaccinated individuals should continue to follow preventive measures when they are indoors. If a fully vaccinated individual has been exposed to COVID-19 but remains asymptomatic, that individual is no longer subject to work restrictions.
- Unvaccinated individuals should continue to wear face coverings outdoors unless they are attending a small outdoor gathering with family and close friends.
- All individuals should wear face coverings at large outdoor events, since it cannot be easily determined who is vaccinated and who is not vaccinated.
- All individuals, even if they have been vaccinated or have already had COVID-19, should continue to follow preventive measures when they are indoors. Preventative measures include wearing masks, physical distancing when possible, avoiding poorly ventilated places, washing hands, and covering coughs and sneezes.
- All individuals should continue to follow any other workplace guidance at the local level.
